A word from Fr. Bill...

Dear Parishioners:

If you haven't noticed, I invite you to observe a few changes around and in the church building that helps our appearance and which hopefully reflects that we are a welcoming community.

First and foremost, the doors of the church have been painted. How good it is to see these freshly painted doors without stains and without dirt. Thanks Rey Borres!

Secondly, the planters in the front of the church have been rearranged. One can now see the Santo Niño plaque and the sign indicating the times for Masses and confessions. One Filipino gentleman, Macko, who is new to the area saw the plaque last Friday and came to the 12:05 PM Mass. Thanks Charlie!

Thirdly, the mats inside the two entrances of the church have been cleaned, shampooed and power washed. The oil stains as a result of vandalism are no longer seen. We can truly be reminded that, "we gather to worship" and that "we leave to serve." Thanks Tim!

Fourthly, the wall alongside the front of the church has been painted and the graffiti has been removed. It is nice to see it look so clean. Thanks Tim!

Fifthly, (Is there such a word?) the railings on the inside steps of the church from 4th Street have been repaired and cleaned. They now look more presentable. The railings entering the sanctuary have been tightened. They are now safer for those who use them (like me).

Lastly (I don't think I can say sixthly), look in the very near future on Marginal Rd. for new informational signs about parish activities. They will be neater, more flexible, and more up to date. Thank you Signarama!

These may all be small things (and there will be more in the near future) but hopefully they add up to show that we are a welcoming community and that we care about the appearance and safety of the building in which the Church (God's people) gathers to celebrate the central mysteries of our faith, hearing God's Word and sharing the Eucharist, the source and summit of our lives.

Thank you to all involved.

Have a great week.
